MP: I'LL ACCOUNT FOR MY EXPENSES

PRESSURE is mounting on Harlow MP Bill Rammell to publish full details of his expense claims in the wake of the scandal that has rocked Parliament.

Back in March the Star revealed Mr Rammell, Minister of State in the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, had claimed a total of £114,220 between 2001 and 2008 to pay for furniture, food, energy bills, maintenance and mortgage costs on a second home in London, despite living less than 30 miles from Westminster.

At the time he said he had stopped claiming the Additional Costs Allowance even though he was entitled to do so. But this week his two Parliamentary opponents in Harlow – Conservative Rob Halfon and

By CHRIS MOSS

moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Liberal Democrat Dave White – have challenged him to reveal exactly how he has spent a total of almost £1m of taxpayers' money claimed for all his expenses since 2001.

Calling for Mr Rammell's receipts to be published online and updated whenever a new claim is submitted, Mr Halfon insisted that "total transparency" was the only way for MPs to regain the trust of disillusioned constituents.

"I am not suggesting Mr Rammell has got anything to hide but I think the electorate would appreciate knowing where their money has been spent," Mr Halfon told the Star.

"It is clear that the expenses system needs a complete overhaul. This scandal has done so much to add to the ever-increasing contempt felt by people towards politicians of all colours."

Mr White added that he was "completely baffled" as to why Mr Rammell needed a second home when his constituency is so close to central London.

"I know lots of people who live in Harlow and have to commute to and from London daily for work," he said. "I think it's time Mr Rammell took a reality check and gave up unnecessary luxuries like his second home."

Although Mr Rammell has not been named in the Daily Telegraph investigation into the abuse of Parliamentary allowances, the fallout from which has already seen some MPs suspended, sacked or forced to resign, he told the Star he was nevertheless planning on accounting for his expenses.

"Before the publication of any MP's expenses there is a process of checking with the Fees Office," he said yesterday (Wednesday). "I am frustrated this is taking so long but I will be publishing my expenses in the very near future and will fully account for them."

"It is clear MPs of all parties are individually and collectively responsible for the real and genuine concerns about the expenses system. We all need to focus on root-and-branch reform."

On Tuesday the Speaker of the House of Commons, Michael Martin, announced MPs will no longer be able to use taxpayers' money on furniture, cleaning or home improvements.

Deal signed on scheme to transform town centre

THE regeneration of part of Harlow town centre has taken a significant step forward with the signing of a crucial legal agreement.

As the Star exclusively reported last month, Harlow Council and developer Stockland were poised to seal the deal which will tie the company into turning town centre north into a bustling leisure quarter.

The agreement was finally signed on Tuesday, paving the way for designs to be drawn up and delivered ahead of a formal planning application which is expected next year.

The scheme hopes to incorporate new retail space including a department store, food store, 500 homes, restaurants, a hotel, office space, a new library and a new bus station.

Leisure facilities including a new cinema, market and transformed public spaces will also feature in the scheme, which will be the subject of extensive public consultation.

The council is also working on a separate project to develop proposals to include a theatre in the development.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "This is a major boost for Harlow's future and the whole town centre."

"This announcement contributes to an exciting time for Harlow along with other regeneration projects which are happening. If we are going to realise our ambition of making Harlow a sub-regional shopping centre then schemes like this must happen."

All fun and games at nature reserve

VISITORS were offered the chance to take a walk on the wild side at a fun day devoted to the outdoors.

Youngsters who went to Parndon Wood Nature Reserve in Harlow on Sunday for the annual wildlife day enjoyed craft activities, climbing trees and playing medieval games.

There was also an opportunity to take part in a creative arts workshop in which they were invited to make a picture themed around the great outdoors.

Pictured playing a German game called Gluckshaus are Mark Mackenzie and his son Daniel (7), Paul Hamilton-Viall and Joe Ford and his granddaughter Sidonie (5).

Bad parkers risk £70 fine

TRAFFIC wardens armed with tape measures and ticket machines are to patrol the streets of Harlow under tough new rules to crack down on dangerously parked cars.

At present no-one is responsible for keeping check on whether vehicles are parked safely, resulting in many streets and pavements becoming clogged.

But this week the Department of Transport said all councils in England will be allowed to enforce measures outlined in the Traffic Management Act 2004.

Under the regulations anyone parked more than 50cm from the edge of the road or found to be blocking drop kerbs will be hit with a £70 fine – money which will go straight into council coffers.

The move has been welcomed by council chiefs in Harlow who say they receive numerous complaints each year about inconsiderate parking.

The problem has proved so widespread that refuse collection teams have been forced to leave rubbish piled up for weeks in one estate because their vehicle couldn't squeeze past parked cars.

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassooni@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The parking menace also creates issues for disabled people who have problems negotiating pavements in wheelchairs and for emergency services.

Joel Charles, vice chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "We will be using these powers in response to complaints that we receive from residents and in areas where these issues are common."

"Parking enforcement rules exist for the safety of pedestrians and all road users and issuing penalty charge notices acts as a deterrent."

The powers have been enforced by London councils for a number of years and will be rolled out in Harlow from June 1.

New archdeacon an 'Essex boy'

THE newly appointed Archdeacon of Harlow said this week he was looking forward to the challenges that lie ahead.

Rev Canon Martin Webster, rector of Waltham Abbey, will be installed by the Bishop of Chelmsford in a service to be held in Chelmsford Cathedral on July 26.

The Archdeacons of Harlow comprises the deaneries of Harlow, Epping Forest and Ongar.

left, was ordained in 1978 and has served in the Diocese of Chelmsford ever since.

"As an Essex boy I feel very privileged to serve the people and parishes of West Essex as archdeacon," he said. "I look forward to helping the churches and community life grow and develop in this area."

Canon Webster and his wife, Vicky, have three sons.

He lists his interests as painting landscapes, fishing, skiing and watching sport.

Pub team in tutus ready to step out in style for Midnight Walk!

WITH less than a month to go before registration for this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk closes, the number of teams taking part is growing week by week.

"There are now 900 people signed up to take part but we're looking for lots more ladies to join us to paint the town pink," said Tracy Meale, events organiser for St Clare. "All the money raised will go to St Clare, a charity caring for hundreds of local people with life-limiting illnesses each year."

This week's featured team of pink ladies are from the Rainbow and Dove pub in Hastingwood Road.

"We wanted to do our bit for the hospice which is our local charity and our neighbours," said pub spokeswoman Katie Chirral. "It's a great cause and we like to do whatever we can to support them. We've all got our sponsor forms and we're busy raising money. I'm using my Facebook page."

"On the night we'll be bringing along our dressing-up box full of pink tutus!"

The Midnight Walk, which is once again supported by the Star, takes place on June 20 but registration closes eight days earlier on June 12. The starting point will be the

Water Gardens in Harlow town centre. Entertainment will be provided before the walkers set off on a 10km route along the town's footpaths and cycle paths. The aim is to raise at least £120,000 for the hospice.

"Why not get an office team together or round up your shop colleagues and sign up now to have a night out with a difference," said Tracey. "Last year we even had a hen night party! We're now looking forward to seeing our 1,000th registrant and that lucky individual will win a prize. "So don't delay, get signed up now. You'll have loads of fun and be helping to pay for the care of local people when they need us most."

Sign up today and help to paint the town pink

HUNDREDS of people have already registered to take part in this year's Midnight Walk but hundreds more are needed if the £120,000 target is to be reached.

Tracy Meale, event fundraiser for St Clare, said: "We would love to see the sign-up forms (below) flooding in next week. Alternatively, people wanting to take part can sign up on our website."

The 10km walk, which starts in Harlow town centre, follows a planned route along the town's streets and cycle paths. It is open to both men and women, as well as children aged over 14. Those aged 14 and 15 must be accompanied by a responsible adult who is registered to take part in the walk. "We want to make this year even bigger than last year's hugely successful night," said Tracy. "Why not get a group of friends together and sign up to have a fun night and paint the town pink!"

Thief admits 51 crimes to 'clear decks'

A CONVICTED thief who was described as a "one-man crime wave" by a judge has been sentenced to a further five months behind bars after confessing to another 51 offences.

Cirean Brytz (21), of Tanys Dell, Harlow, was initially jailed for 28 months in February for robbery, assault causing actual bodily harm and battery.

But since his court appearance he has owned up to a catalogue of further crimes which he committed in the Harlow area.

On Friday Brytz was jailed for a further two years and nine months – to run concurrently with his existing sentence – after admitting two burglaries at homes in Pittman's Field and Pear Tree Mead.

He also asked for a further 49 similar offences committed between December 2003 and August 2008 to be taken into consideration.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said the offence at Pear Tree Mead involved the theft of a television, laptop computer, games console and cash while the Pittman's Field burglary resulted in the theft of a car.

David Pickersgill, representing Brytz, said in mitigation: "He wants to clear the decks, wrap it all up and build a new life for himself in the west country."

Judge Christopher Ball said he hoped Brytz had shown genuine remorse but added: "If you want to come back to Harlow and offend again I'll be waiting for you."

"I can't ignore the fact you were a one-man crime wave around Harlow in this period."

Work under way on town Post Office refurbishment

CUSTOMERS using Harlow's town centre Post Office should soon reap the benefits of a major refurbishment project which it is claimed will bring the ageing facility into the 21st century.

Work on modernising the Stone Cross branch to make it lighter, brighter and more user-friendly began on Saturday and is expected to take around two months to complete.

The investment is part of a £40m package being spent on Post Offices nationwide and will see the construction of a dedicated customer service area and upgraded facilities for staff.

A Post Office spokeswoman said: "The refurbishment of Harlow Post Office will result in a new modern layout which will deliver real customer benefits, whether people are visiting the branch to post a letter or find out more about our range of financial services."

Disruption for customers will be kept to a minimum, with the branch will remain open and fully functional throughout the work.

Witness saw youths run from fire scene

A GROUP of youths were seen running away from the scene on the night a fatal fire claimed the life of a young woman and left her boyfriend with brain damage, a jury heard

Paul Crick, who lived in a flat at Sherwood House, Bush Fair along with Darren Satchwell – the alleged target of the blaze – told Chelmsford Crown Court there had been trouble involving youngsters.

Mr Crick, who described himself as an alcoholic with a drugs problem, said he knew a number of young people frequented the premises. He had occupied the flat for some time but moved out a few weeks before it was firebombed.

He said that while he was living at the flat a window had been broken on several occasions.

"It was the young lads," he told the court. "Darren had threatened the boys with a knife. They had done something wrong. They didn't like him because he was a schizophrenic, he's different."

He said that on the evening of the fire he was in the area when he saw a group of between 20-25 youngsters. "I saw the lads run off to the underpass. They were 300-400 yards away," he told the court.

Kerry Youngs (24), who lived with her boyfriend Kevin Chapple in the flat above Mr Satchwell's, died in the fire. Mr Chapple (31) survived but suffered devastating brain damage.

The prosecution allege the fire was started deliberately by two boys, then aged 13 and 14, who had been bullying Mr Satchwell.

Carl Manton, now 18, of Long Banks, Harlow and a 17-year-old boy, also from Harlow, deny murder and causing grievous bodily harm. They also deny manslaughter and arson with intent to endanger life and being reckless as to whether life was endangered.

Two other defendants – a 40-year-old woman from Harlow and a 37-year-old man from Woodford Green – deny committing acts tending or intending to pervert the course of justice by making a false statement about one of the boy's whereabouts. A 15-year-old girl denies making a false statement.

The hearing continues.

VIPs given a lesson in science

BUSINESS representatives and politicians have been given an insight into a local science project designed to entertain thousands of Harlow residents each year.

Further education minister Siôn Simon and Harlow MP Bill Rammell were among guests invited to the Harlow Enterprise Hub on Friday to hear what will be on offer at a science centre which will be housed in the new Leisure Zone complex being built in Third Avenue.

There will be more than 50 hands-on exhibits based around the themes of engineering, health and fitness, the environment and general science as well as a theatre offering a changing programme of shows relating to all aspects of the science curriculum.

It will also offer specially developed

activities and workshops for specific groups. The centre has run into problems over funding and the aim of Friday's gathering was to raise its profile among stakeholders to ensure it opens on time.

Jayne Foster, chief executive of charity Science Alive which is behind the project, said: "With the centre open the people of Harlow and the wider region will benefit enormously, especially through a boost to the local economy."

OAP pushed to floor in robbery

A THIEF with a distinctive boil on his face is being hunted by police after he robbed an elderly woman in her own home.

The victim, who is in her 70s, was opening her front door after returning from shopping last Wednesday afternoon when he put a hand over her mouth and forced her inside.

He pushed her to the floor and then took her purse and cash from a shopping bag. He fled with a small amount of money, a bus pass and pictures of the woman's grandchildren.

PC Christopher Holland said: "This was an appalling attack on an elderly woman. She was unharmed but left very badly shaken by her ordeal."

The suspect is described as black, about 35, short and stocky with short black hair and a boil or spot on his right lower cheek. He was wearing a three-quarter length coat, black shoes and canvas gloves.

Anyone with information about the incident should call PC Holland on 0300 3334444.

Let's not forget Tory hardships

SIR, Robert Halfon's budget response (Letters, May 8) was heavy on statistics so I'd like to respond in a language he seems to understand.

Under the last Tory government unemployment reached over three million, house repossession hit 80,000 a year and interest rates peaked at 15 per cent. All those figures are way in excess of anything we have yet experienced under the Labour Party and the then Tory party were not having to deal with a worldwide recession on this scale.

The Tories only paid a pittance of a winter fuel payment to the elderly if the temperature dipped below zero for five consecutive days, leaving many elderly people freezing in their homes. People routinely died on NHS waiting lists waiting for life-saving operations because of the lack of funding from the Treasury and things like free bus travel for the elderly and a minimum wage for working people were just pipedreams.

For all its faults the current Government has a long way to go before it matches the level of incompetence and sleaze that was displayed by the last Tory party. Alas, people forget these things and will no doubt sleepwalk into the arms of a bunch of Old Etonians salivating at the bit to get their hands on power.

Bob Johnson
Wissants, Harlow

Show me the proof or resign

SIR, This is an open letter to councillor Russell Perrin. As you have chosen to ignore all of my attempts to contact you I am forced to write this through the Star.

With regard to your public statement that Harlow Council had only £89,000 in the bank when the new administration took control, I do not dispute your claim but I would feel better if I could see the document you relied upon to make it.

Following a Freedom of Information request, I have been informed by the council that no such document exists and I have been unable to find anyone willing to support your statement.

If you are unwilling or unable to make public a document that supports your statement then, for the good of the people of Harlow, please resign.

Hands off our Learning Shop

SIR, I was very shocked and upset to read that our local learning centre, the Learning Shop, will be closing due to funding being stopped (Star, May 1).

I have been going along to the Learning Shop from soon after they opened and have two levels of English and Level 2 maths and am part way through my IT course.

I have been able to go at any time which has been good because I could fit it round my busy lifestyle. I've made many friends with students and staff and this has helped tremendously with building

Greedy MPs lacking a moral conscience

SIR, Like all true Englishmen I am appalled at the revelations in the Daily Telegraph of the greed and dishonesty of a large number of our elected Parliamentarians. While so many MPs are feathering their nests, many of us are struggling with the current economic downturn.

Do they not realize what they have done to this country's once proud tradition of honesty and fair play? This country's Parliament, once held in esteem and an example to the world, has now been shown to be no better than many corrupt banana republics. It would appear that any trace of moral conscience has gone.

The vague excuses of sloppy accounting, oversights or claims within the rules will cut no ice with the electorate. If they really are that remiss in their own affairs they are not entitled to represent us in Parliament. Their miserable excuses beggar belief.

With so many of them with their snouts in the trough, they have proved to be no better than the greedy bankers who have brought this country to its knees.

I think the Government should reimburse the Daily Telegraph for their considerable costs in bringing these charlatans to public scrutiny. After all, the Government throws our money away on far less worthy projects.

The problem now is who do we vote for next time? I think it will need to be somebody new who hasn't as yet found out how to work the expense system.

I'm sure there are honest hard-working politicians out there but where do we find them and will they be in our constituencies?

Alan J. Welch
Northbrooks, Harlow

my confidence as well as gaining qualifications to help get the kind of job I would like to get back to doing.

This is why the Learning Shop was set up, to help people get back to work. I thought this was what the Government's aim is, so why take it away from under our feet?

The nearest Learning Shop will be in Chelmsford. This is far too far to go as the cost to get there is out of an unemployed person's reach.

The Learning Shop offers far more than training priorities and helps people of all age ranges. Is there anything at all we can do so we can keep one of the centres in Harlow?

Yvonne Fry
Jonnys Field, Harlow

SIR, I have been going to the Learning Shop in Harlow for a year and have completed courses in English and maths and am partway through my IT course.

I have made a lot of new friends so not only have I gained a lot of new qualifications to boast about but I have somewhere to go where I am guaranteed a friendly welcome, I can meet like-minded adults, have a chat and a laugh and, from time to time, pop down the pub with other students and staff.

Jane Ellis of the University for Industry says the Learning Shop is there to meet training priorities but it is so much more than that.

I have been looking for somewhere else to go but there are no other LearnDirect centres within an hour's journey.

Debbie Johnson
Barn Mead, Harlow

Thanks for all your support

SIR, I am writing to say thank all those commuters (and taxi drivers) who contributed to Support 4 Sight's station collection at Harlow Town on Wednesday, April 22.

Support 4 Sight is a charity that helps people who are experiencing sight loss by offering advice and equipment to help overcome failing sight.

Although we have been working in north west Essex for 15 years, it is only recently we have started offering our services in Harlow. We would be interested in hearing from anyone who would like to find out more about volunteering for Support 4 Sight in the Harlow area.

If any Star readers are experiencing sight loss or have a friend or family member who has lost or has reduced sight, they may like to contact us on (01799) 523700, or visit our resource centre at 2-4 George Street, Saffron Walden, where we stock a wide range of aids and equipment.

Dandelions as good as gold

SIR, I wept into my cornflakes as I read of N. Poulten's dislike of dandelions (Letters, April 23).

I don't want pesticides sprayed on the verges; dandelions are quite harmless.

Does Mr Poulten intend to inspect the whole of the Essex countryside and eliminate every single dandelion? He would be better occupied in spreading wildflower seeds everywhere.

A host of golden dandelions can be as beautiful as a host of daffodils.

Sheila Hiller
Upper Park, Harlow

SIR, Your correspondent N. Poulten says he thought Harlow's verges are supposed to be green and points out that the sea of yellow dandelions within the verges are a disgrace.

I suggest it is anti-social of the council not to cut the grass more frequently. What is the point of keeping the roundabouts on Harlow's approaches tidy when immediately you turn off them the verges are so grotty?

Part of Harlow Council's logo says "Working together for Harlow". If only they did we would not have the dandelion menace and they would not be so anti-social.

Protest group supporters in court to hear housing case

SUPPORTERS of a campaign group opposing plans to build thousands of new homes on countryside to the north of Harlow travelled to the Royal Courts of Justice on Monday for the start of a judicial review into the controversial proposals.

Hertfordshire County Council and St Albans Council are challenging housing proposals contained in the East of England Plan.

The case hinges on whether the Secretary of State has the power to publish the plan without having properly considered alternatives in a strategic environmental assessment.

Pressure group STOP Harlow North believes the councils have a strong case because the Harlow North proposals represent a new settlement and reasonable alternative proposals should have been considered.

A group spokesman said: "The Strategic Environmental Report published with the proposed changes to the plan contains no assessment of alternatives."

"We published our alternative in 2006 after the panel reported and before the proposed changes were published. Despite widespread local support for these ideas, the Government completely ignored this alternative land use proposal."

"We also believe the Secretary of State behaved irrationally when she rejected the independent planning inspectors report."

The hearing was expected to continue until yesterday (Wednesday).

Hit-and-run driver kills mum on holiday island

The French connection

GASTRONAUTES were treated to a taste of the continent when a French market set up stall in Harlow town centre at the weekend.

Shoppers had the pick from a mouth-watering selection of sausages, cheeses, pates and preserves, while those on the lookout for leather goods could browse a wide selection of shoes, handbags, belts and purses.

Traditional soaps and natural sponge from Marseille were also on offer at the market, which ran from Friday until Sunday.

A MOTHER-of-one who lived in Harlow has been killed in a hit-and-run accident in Thailand.

Claire Cox (42), nee Clenshaw, and her boyfriend died instantly when a pick-up truck being driven on the wrong side of the road ploughed into them while they were on holiday.

Two days earlier Claire had made a telephone call to her parents, Bill and Joan Clenshaw, to tell them she was planning to return home early. It is believed she was intending to come back to Britain on the day she died.

Claire had lived in Harlow on and off for 10 years, living in the Greenhills area of the town for four years before moving to Ipswich in 2003.

She had been a pupil at Bunt Mill School while growing up in Dobbs Weir and had worked for a construction company in Staple Tye.

Her grieving family are struggling to come to terms with the tragedy. Sister-in-law Chris said: "It was the first time she had been to Thailand; it was a very beautiful place she was staying in."

"A memorial was held for her there. The hotelier and dive instructor said she was really lovely and that she was happy, which is a comfort for us.

"She was lively, laughed a lot and was very caring. She was popular with her friends and knew a lot of people."

"She loved decorating and was always doing her house up; she was half way through the sale of her house when this happened."

At the time of her death Claire was working as a finance administrator for Mencap Ipswich and was involved in the Genesis Project, which aims to improve the lives of disabled people in Suffolk.

She leaves a 17-year-old son, Adam. Her funeral will take at St Mary's Church in Little Hallingbury on Saturday, followed by burial at the Three Mile Pond cemetery in Sawbridgeworth.

Thai police are continuing their investigations into the accident which happened on the island of Koh Samui on April 29.

Officers are still looking for the truck driver who ran away after the collision.

Lucky punter beats odds to win £64,000

A PENSIONER who rode his luck was smiling all the way to the bank this week after he won more than £64,000 on the horses.

Staff at the Harlow town centre branch of Joe Jennings bookmakers were speechless after the 83-year-old pocketed his winnings on Saturday.

The lucky punter, who asked to remain anonymous but who lives in the Brays Grove area of town, placed £20 on four horses to win different races in an accumulator bet.

The odds were stacked against

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoona@hertsessexnews.co.uk him but the bet came off when each horse crossed the line in first place to secure the man a life-changing £64,081.

"It is the most I have ever won," he told the Star this week. "You try to look at the various jockeys and the odds but most of it comes down to luck."

The odds on each horse to win their races were 9/1, 11/1, 6/1 and 14/1.

The pensioner said he planned to put the money away to spend on a rainy day but added: "I have children so the money will soon go."

A spokesman for Jennings said the amount was one of the biggest to be paid out by the company.

"This was a fantastic achievement in betting terms and just goes to show that for a small stake you can win very large returns in your local betting shop," he said.

"To win that amount of money on four horses, especially when you look at the odds, is quite remarkable."

He added: "We wish our lucky customer every happiness in his new-found wealth."

Patients to benefit from ultrasound investment

A STATE-of-the-art ultrasound room has opened at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital as part of a drive to improve x-ray facilities at the site.

The room, equipped with an £82,000 scanner which produces instant images to aid diagnosis, will double the ultrasound capacity in the department.

It will operate alongside the existing three in the maternity department and one already in the x-ray department.

PAH radiology business manager Liz Mazura said: "The new room allows us far greater flexibility in the way we work so we can dedicate one ultrasound machine to the needs of inpatients whilst the other can be used mainly for outpatient tests and more complex procedures.

"This means a far quicker turnaround for patients and enables us to provide doctors with instant images to aid diagnosis of a number of medical problems."

Athletes return triumphant with impressive medal haul

A TEAM of young athletes with special needs brought home a bagful of gold, silver and bronze medals after a successful trip to a regional tournament.

Sixteen members of Harlow Athletics Club's all ability sports and leisure section, which is supported by Harlow Council, took part in the East Regional Disability Athletics Championships held at Chelmsford.

The Harlow team – which included wheelchair users and athletes with cerebral palsy, spina bifida and moderate and severe learning disabilities – competed against more than 200 other athletes and clocked up an impressive tally of 29 gold, 11 silver and 6 bronze medals between them.

Joel Charles, vice chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "This is a great achievement by these young people representing the town and shows what a talented group of young athletes are being developed by the all ability sports club.

"It is excellent to see the commitment and dedication shown by all in this competition and demonstrates that there are plenty of opportunities in Harlow for young people of all abilities to get involved in competitive sport and maybe even win a few medals."

Farewell picture brings memories of Uncle George

NO sooner had we printed a reader's response to an appeal for information about the photograph above than more information landed on the Nostalgia desk.

Last week Ron Hornsey wrote in to say the photograph was taken at Cossor Electronics at Pinnacles some time between 1964 and 1970 and showed members of the 'heavy squad' who had gathered to say farewell to work colleague Reg Trew who was leaving to become a school teacher.

Now Pete Fraser has been in touch to say he believes the man on the left wearing the spectacles could be his uncle.

"His name was George Fraser and he lived in Abbotswood for many years until his death in 1994," writes Pete. "He was a shop steward at Cossor and fixed up my dad – his brother, Ben – with a job there in 1967."

Thank you for your contribution, Peter.

Scrambling for bike race glory

By LOUISE SASSOON

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT'S not often we cover sporting events on these pages but this is one we feel worthy of a mention as it drew crowds of hundreds and put the town on the international cycling map.

The Smirnoff Scramble and international cyclo-cross championship, held at the Harlow Cycling Club during the 1970s, saw cyclists of varying capabilities race against each other around a huge course spanning the Town Park, Edinburgh Way and the cycle club.

The event was big news in the world of cycling and professional riders from across the country descended on the town to take part in the challenge which was usually held in January.

The Harlow Gazette covered the 1979 race which saw the riders face difficult conditions as the wintry weather the town had experienced in the days before the event suddenly gave way to rain, causing a quagmire.

The eventual winner of the race that year was Eric Stone, who crossed the finish line in first place after completing nine laps.

Among those who watched the race was local bike enthusiast John Curry. "They were good to watch when they took place," he said. "The cycle club did all the organising and Edinburgh Way was closed on race day because that was the start and the finish line."

"The reason it came to Harlow is because the town had Gilbeys, which was a big distillers, and Smirnoff was one of its products.

"Every year for a number of years the races were held in the town and we used to get commentators such as Hugh Porter come along and do the commentary."

"It was serious stuff because it was the European Championships."

Did you take part in the Smirnoff Scramble or do you remember watching from the sidelines? Let us know by writing to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Showcase for talent as pupils take to the stage to entertain

MARK HALL: Pupils took to the stage to entertain with their very own talent competition.

Twelve acts including singers, dancers, a band, a brother and sister mime act and a beat boxer, got up to perform in front of classmates, parents and teachers in the annual event at the London Road school. The evening was compered by Year 11 students Rikki Farnsworth and Abbie Matthews who kept the audience entertained between performances. The winner was singer AmberLeigh Smith, pictured above with her fellow performers.

A school spokeswoman said: "Well done to all who took part and thanks to the judges for their comments and encouragement.

"We would also like to thank parents and pupils who attended this worthwhile event."

Exhibition of work designed to both celebrate and inspire

PASSMORES: GCSE students showed they have what it takes in the field of design when their work was put on display at a special open evening.

The exhibition of work by Year 11 design and technology students included a wide range of pieces created in textiles, catering, graphics and resistive materials.

A school spokeswoman said: "This was to celebrate the work of Year 11 but was also a perfect time for other students from the school to be inspired by the work on display."

Toddlers' wigloo is fun for playtime

RUM TUM TUGGERS

NURSERY: Toddlers had a day of tree-mendous fun when they were visited by a specialist team who made them an igloo-shaped hut out of willow branches.

The wigloo, pictured above left, will stand in the playground at the Ridings Lane nursery for toddlers to play in for years to come.

The nursery was also given two fruit trees from Art Nursery in North

These have been planted and will be used as an educational tool to teach children about nature and how fruit grows.

High drama during mountain challenge

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DEDICATED group of fundraisers reached new heights when they scaled the UK's highest peak to raise cash for charity.

Nearly 40 people, who have been in training since January, set off from Harlow to climb to the top of Ben Nevis in aid of the Epping Breast Cancer Unit. But treacherous weather put a damper on the walk after heavy snow forced the group to abandon its attempt on the summit.

To make matters worse, one member of the party had to be airlifted to hospital after she slipped and fell 80ft down the side of the mountain, breaking her wrist and cracking her cheekbone.

Trip organiser Lesa Spooner said: "As we were coming down we heard one of the climbers had fallen over the side of the mountain and into water.

"We rushed down there and fortunately a group of lifeboat volunteers who were on their way up managed to get down to her and sit with her until the air rescue crew arrived.

Thankfully she is home now and OK. She has survived cancer and now she has survived falling down Ben Nevis!"

Lesa added: "The weather was horrendous and we had been warned nobody had reached the summit the day before we all set out because of the weather. "Seven of the group turned back after 2,000ft because of the conditions and the rest of us tried to get as far as we could but 100 metres from the top it was a complete whiteout. I have never seen snow like it.

"But everybody did fantastically well to get as far as they did and I just want to say well done to everybody who took part and the volunteers who helped."

Despite the fact that they didn't make it to the top the group raised more than £10,000 for the unit which is based at St Margaret's Hospital.

Helping parents cope with exams

PARENTS of students worried about their impending GCSE and A-Level exams are being offered support and advice from an Essex charity.

Parentline Plus, which runs a free, 24-hour confidential helpline, has put together some pointers for parents to help them cope and support their children during exam time.

Liz Ward, of the Harlow branch, said: "This year the pressure on our children to succeed is higher than ever. To get into college, university or to get a job is very tough in the current recession and we need to find ways to support them at a really intense period of their life.

"Callers to our Parentline have expressed concerns about finding a balance between wanting their children to do well in exams and not putting too much pressure on them."

She added: "Parents tell us that the best way to get through it is to be as calm, positive and reassuring as possible. Try to also keep your sense of humour."

For more advice, call on 0800 800 2222.

Work partnership

CHARITY scheme Employ-Ability, which helps disabled people find work, is teaming up with Harlow Council to offer work experience.

The partnership offers opportunities for people with disabilities to update their skills in three-four month placements in three departments.

There will be a selection process with application and interview. Working hours will be flexible – up to 16 hours per week – and successful applicants will receive £20 in expenses.

To find out more or to apply, phone (01279) 446018 or email recruitment@harlow.gov.uk. The closing date for the first placements is June 7.

Honour for nurse

A NURSE from Harlow has won a national award for overcoming difficulties in order to achieve her ambition.

Maria Gough (50), of Brockles Mead, left school with few qualifications but has now fulfilled her dream of becoming a senior nurse.

Her dedication and commitment to learning was recognised when she received a National Learning Works Award as part of Adult Learners Week.

Maria, who works at an NHS walk-in centre, said: "Much of my education was sheer bloody-mindedness. My dad told me I was thick and that education was wasted on women but I proved him wrong.

"My employer was unable to fund my masters degree so I paid for it myself."

Hall open day

VISITORS will be able to admire the beauty of Copped Hall when the grounds are opened to the public on Sunday.

The Copped Hall Trust will be holding its Spring Open Day from 11am to 4pm. Visitors will have access to the gardens, part of the mansion and the stables.

Ladies wheel out hospice donation

A BUSY year of activities which included a wine tasting session, a beetle drive and a collection at the Harlow College car park resulted in the Inner Wheel Club of Harlow raising £1,000 for St Clare Hospice.

Members visited the hospice at Hastingwood during which they presented a cheque to chief executive Richard Cowie.

Astronauts' space trip to fix telescope

A TEAM of astronauts blasted off into space last week on one of the most dangerous missions to date - to fix the Hubble telescope.

The space shuttle Atlantis was launched from the Kennedy Space Centre in Florida carrying new parts to install on the ageing giant structure

Hubble has been in orbit taking pictures of space for almost 20 years but is now badly in need of repair.

The mission is considered extremely risky as the telescope is a long way from the International Space Station, meaning that if anything goes wrong the astronauts will struggle to get help.

However, another shuttle is on standby in case Atlantis is damaged during its flight.

During five long space walks the astronauts have been repairing and replacing broken parts and installing powerful new cameras.

Before leaving, mission leader John Grunsfeld said: "There will be no time to take a breath and look around, it's just going to be work, work, work."

Hubble has helped teach us about the way the Universe works, photographing far-off stars and fantastic images of space that would be impossible to see from the Earth's surface.

If everything goes to plan, the telescope which was launched back in 1990 should last until at least 2014.

Weston: why now is a good time to buy a home

THE cyclical downturn in the housing market has traditionally created a strong opportunity for first-time buyers and investors who want to put their money in bricks and mortar rather than the stock markets.

That is according to research by Takeley-based developer Weston Homes on market trends dating back to the mid-1970s.

Weston Homes analysed data from the Office for National Statistics and mortgage lenders Nationwide and Halifax to assess similar indicators in the past three economic downturns.

Low inflation, low interest rates and affordability are the strong indicators which signal that the new homes market is at the bottom of its cycle, presenting an opportunity for reinvestment in the UK housing market.

Between 1988 and 1989, average house prices rose an average of 28.36 per cent while interest rates grew from eight per cent to 14 per cent, according to Nationwide statistics and the Office for National Statistics, respectively. The market bottomed out in the first quarter of 1993, which followed with lower interest rates, reduced inflation and rising employment.

Between 2005 and 2007, average

Weston Homes' Archers Place development in Bishop's Stortford house prices rose an average of 22.72 per cent while interest rates grew from 4.75 per cent to 5.5 per cent according to Halifax and the Office for National Statistics, respectively.

During the past five quarters since the recent peak of the housing market, average house prices have fallen between 17.7 per cent and 19.2 per cent. The total drop since the market peak is considerably more than the market drop in the late 1980s to early 1990s, which showed an average house price fall of between 8.95 per cent and 12.73 per cent. This means that those who buy a home today are saving more than those who bought after the early 1990s downturn.

Weston Homes' statistics also show that new-build house prices have fallen by 30 per cent since the second quarter of 2007.

Interest rates are at the lowest on record at 0.5 per cent while inflation remains at three per cent, according to the Bank of England, which indicates the market bottoming out, as was the situation in 1993.

For first-time buyers, the current affordability, which is the ratio between a buyer's annual income and the price of their home, is 3.07 with an 18 per cent deposit required. The affordability ratio is the lowest it has been in 35 years before the mid-1970s cyclical change.

Weston Homes chairman and chief executive Bob Weston said: "The low interest rates are great for mortgages but not very helpful for investors."

"People are starting to look at investing in bricks and mortar again as homes are the most affordable they have been in decades and property will always appreciate in the long term. Buyers are also becoming aware that stock is diminishing with homebuilders falling short of the Government's projected new homes target of 240,000 homes per annum to just 50,000 by the end of 2009."

"First-time buyers are adjusting to the mortgage availability with an expectation that a decent deposit must be accumulated before buying."

"Those UK retirees who were previously priced out of the British market but could afford property in the Mediterranean are returning home as European mortgages become unaffordable and UK homes more affordable. All these signs show green shoots in the market. I genuinely believe the new homes market has reached the bottom with the existing homes market not too far off."

A NEW PHASE OF FAMILY HOUSES JUST RELEASED AT FIFTH AVENUE WITH GREAT WAYS TO BUY

BARRATT NORTH LONDON has just released a new phase of family houses at its Fifth Avenue development in Harlow. These are the first houses to be built at the development for a year and Barratt is offering some great ways to buy at this popular address.

Glyn Hopping, managing director of Barratt North London, says: "Fifth Avenue continues to be one of our most successful developments. More than 150 homes are now occupied and we are continuing to sell two to three properties a week. Through our various purchase options, we've been able to help people onto the property ladder who, in other circumstances, may not have been able to buy their own home. We've also made buying at Fifth Avenue easy for existing homeowners with our Agency Selling Service."

Three-bedroom houses are available through the new Government-backed scheme, HomeBuy Direct, where buyers find 70 per cent of the purchase price themselves; the other 30 per cent is funded by a joint equity loan from Barratt and the Government's Homes and Communities Agency (HCA). The scheme is open for first time buyers, key workers and others who are currently renting. People who have previously owned a home but are now unable to do so, perhaps where relationships have broken down, can also apply. Eligible households must be earning less than £60,000 and would not normally be able to afford to buy a suitable property on the open market.

There is no interest to pay on the equity stake for the first five years, although a small fee will be charged from year six onwards. Buyers are able to redeem the loan in instalments, purchasing up to 100 per cent of the equity after their initial purchase by buying additional equity at the market rate.

Alternatively, if they sell their home, the equity loan is repaid by way of a proportionate share of the sale proceeds.

Existing homeowners who want to move but who are worried about selling their current home can take advantage of Barratt's Agency Selling Service. The housebuilder will organise the sale of your home through an estate agency, arranging all the valuations; there are no estate agent's fees and Barratt will even pay for your Home Information Pack (HIP).

The whole process is handled for you, and Barratt will be there to assist with the sale every step of the way.

Located on a 27-acre site, off Fifth Avenue, near the main A414, the development offers a wide choice of new homes from one and two-bedroom apartments to two, three and four-bedroom houses, along with a range of affordable homes.

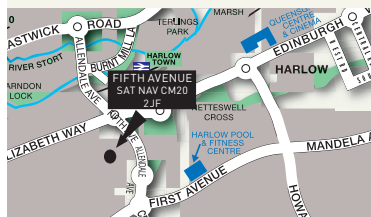

Prices start from £250,000 for a three-bedroom house and from £288,000 for a four-bedroom house. For further information on Fifth Avenue, Hammariskjold Road, off Fifth Avenue, Harlow, Essex, CM20 2JF, contact the sales and marketing suite, open seven days a week from 10am to 6pm, on 01279 641168. ## It's war in the bedroom as Greek wives ban sex

REVIEW

Lysistrata

Moot House Players

THIS was a thoroughly enjoyable production with much to hold the eye and ear, but I confess I spent some time checking the faces of audience members at Moot Hall.

For, despite previously published warnings, many spectators looked a little stunned as the earthy language and sexual references were delivered with gusto.

It's one thing to experience this sort of dialogue in the cinema or on the TV, but to hear four-letter words spilling from the lips of a live cast can take some getting used to.

Contrary to popular belief – and the jokey writings of Philip Larkin – sex does not date from the 1960s. It's been around for a good deal longer, as this spirited drama written by Aristophanes around 411 BC can testify. It tells how the war-weary women of Greece stage a sex strike in order to force their misogynist menfolk to abandon conflict and sue for peace.

Skilfully adapted and directed by Rosemary Caswell, the production

Gallery embarks on a celebration of trees

NATURE lovers with an eye for fine art can indulge their twin passions at a new exhibition in The Gallery at Parndon Mill.

Exploring man's appreciation of trees, forests and foliage, Among The Trees brings together scores of mixed media works illustrating the sheer variety of approaches artists use to depict the subject.

Paintings and drawings on display range from strikingly realistic representations to provocative, abstracted impressions. Glass and ceramics are embellished with intriguing tree imagery while works crafted from wood still retain a sense of the trees from which they were crafted.

In one of the highlights of a fascinating exhibition, acclaimed sculptress Gerda Rubinstein has branched out from her traditional work in clay to create a spectacular dancing figure cast from sections of an olive tree she found in Provence.

Exhibition organiser Roger Lee said: "It's a fantastic collection of work by somewhere in the region of 20 artists, and I would go so far as to say this is one of the most impressive displays we've ever put on."

● The exhibition runs at The Gallery until June 28. Admission is free.

featured a line-up of strong and passionate women determined to achieve their goal in the face of anger and derision from their husbands. Led by Lysistrata herself, they overcome their own sense of frustration and much male pestering to win their cause.

Rosalind Barron gave a sparky and focused performance as Lysistrata, bravely defying a torrent of threats and bullying led by the local magistrate. As the pompous official, Michael Caswell both amused and impressed as he turned from bombastic to cringing in a heartbeat.

Ablly led by Geoff Leeds as Drakis, the sneering schoolboy-like antics of the men were highly comical but they were upstaged by Tony Edwards, hilarious as doddery Strymo, carried away with lustful memories as his sex-starved colleagues discussed their frustrations!

Claire Quley and Dan Powell were engaging as young couple Myrrhini and Kinesias. Their scene where the wife agrees to sleep with the husband out in the open, only to blindfold him and run off, generated much laughter.

With a stunning set and beautiful costumes – the trademarks of an MHP staging – this production was very easy on the eye... even if some of the dialogue was a little tough on the ears of a few audience members!

sound check with chris moss

SINCE its timely relaunch last July, The Square has really pulled out all the stops to keep you punters happy.

We've seen old hands like Wilko Johnson, Steve Diggle and Roddy Radiation leap the generation gap to inspire younger audiences, while next-big-things Dinosaur Pile-Up, La Roux and Little Man Tate have all seen their stock rise with some intense, intimate and memorable performances.

But in perhaps the venue's most impressive coup to date, tomorrow (Friday) night sees it play host to an incredible 3-for-1 punk rock spectacular with a bill topped by none other than legendary proto-goth punks The Damned (for it is they).

Captain Sensible and friends not only released the first ever single (New Rose) and album (Damned, Damned, Damned) recorded by an English punk band, fact fans, but they were also the first of the UK's blank generation to tour the US, gawd bless 'em.

Extra-special bonus additions on a stellar line-up are Bono-approved Welsh alt-rock wizards The Alarm (they of 68 Guns and Absolute Reality fame,) while the evening kicks off with legendary Stiff Little Fingers guitarist Henry Cluney playing a rollicking solo set.

So as The Square continues to indulge you, get down the front and show your appreciation. After all, with the venue's long-term future still in the balance, it's your choice: use it or lose it.

what's on

MUSIC: A superb season of chamber music continues at The Playhouse on Sunday with trombone-wielding quartet Bones Apart and their fascinating reinterpretation of pieces written for some of Shakespeare's finest plays. Committed to raising the profile of the trombone, the established ensemble aims to expand the boundaries of brass chamber music and widen its appeal. The concert begins at 3pm and tickets cost £12 from (01279) 431945.

HISTORY is brought vividly to life with a dazzling array of computer-generated effects in Night At The Museum 2, a soulless exercise in digital might over emotional substance and subtlety.

The cast of the 2006 family-oriented blockbuster return for this sequel which continues the misadventures of the living exhibits from New York City's famed Museum of Natural History.

Screenwriters Robert Ben Garant and Thomas Lennon allow the visual effects team to run riot by relocating the storyline to the largest museum complex in the world: the hallowed halls of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington DC.

Thus, in a chase around one gargantuan, subterranean vault, Ben Stiller's beleaguered nightguard dodges the tentacles of a giant squid as a pterosaur swoops overhead and General Custer screeches into battle on his trusty motorcycle.

Children will giggle at the bobble-head Albert Einsteins and one of Pop artist Jeff Koons's shiny balloon dogs, which bounds excitedly around the museum halls.

Predominantly, however, humour skews towards teenage and adult audiences, poking fun at historical figures such as Napoleon and Abraham Lincoln, whose memorial on the National Mall enjoys a night-time stroll.

Security guard Larry has left behind his old job at the museum to front Daley Devices infomercial products, which has just launched the glow-in-the-dark torch.

Returning to his old haunt, Larry is distraught to learn from Dr McPhee (Ricky Gervais) that many of the old exhibits are being replaced by state-of-the-art holographic technology.

WIN Tickets to see Jerry Springer in West End show

THE hit musical Chicago tells the story of chorus girl Roxie Hart, glamorous double murderer Velma Kelly and Billy Flynn, the slick and manipulative lawyer keeping them from death row while promising to make them stars.

It provides some of the most sensational roles in all musical theatre and now to an illustrious list of actors who have played the part of Billy comes talk show host Jerry Springer.

And this week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of top price tickets to the 8pm performance on Monday, June 8.

British-born Jerry, who can claim to be something of a dancer having reached the last stages of the 2006 US version of Strictly Come Dancing, regularly records his infamous TV show in Chicago and recently chaired the popular US talent show America's Got Talent.

Most recently he made a memorable programme for the BBC's series Who Do You Think You Are, tracing his roots back from his birth in a London underground station during the Second World War.

He will be appearing in the London stage production of Chicago at the Cambridge Theatre for a strictly limited season from June 1 to July 12.

To enter our competition, answer the question in the coupon and follow the entry instructions. Alternatively, enter via our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk by clicking on 'Competitions' in the Lifestyle section. Under competition name, enter Harlow Star/Chicago.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Tickets cannot be exchanged for alternative dates and have no cash value. Tickets are subject to availability. All transportation is the responsibility of the prize winners.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Call Adrian or Liam on 01707 391333

Has it come to this? Yes it has

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday May 22).

HASITCOMETOTHIS is on a long losing run, which is surprising given the high standard of form she consistently shows.

A drop to the bottom grade could be just what she needs to get back to winning ways and the average contest she finds herself in at 8.45pm looks perfect.

SOLDIERS TALE performed miracles to win last time out and can chase the selection home.

CONFIDENT STATE makes his debut at 9.30pm and if his grading trials are anything to go by, he will not have any problems in winning races.

Trained by Mark Wallis, this powerful blue dog can lead from trap rise and is one to note for the future.

Elsewhere on the card, punters are advised to keep an eye out for the Phil Simmonds' trained duo NO JOKE RONAN and NO JOKE GOOFY, who have both shaped with promise recently.

Friday May 22 selections:

7.30pm Smooth Royal; 7.45pm Own Man; 8pm No Joke Ronan; 8.15pm Dark Oyster; 8.30pm Trotters El Zanc; 8.45pm Hasitcometothis; 9pm Emily Bob; 9.15pm No Joke Goofy; 9.30pm Confident State; 9.45pm Blackey Said So; 10pm Offshore Key; 10.15pm Lislevane Light.

Gold for Yaxley in Essex Champs

DANIEL Yaxley struck gold at the Essex County Athletics Championships.

The Harlow athlete, pictured below, stayed with the leaders in his 1,500m steeplechase until two laps to go, when he pulled away for a comfortable win in 4 mins, 59 secs.

Jess Docking, from North Weald, won the junior women's 2,000m steeplechase in 8:14 and then the next day struck again to win the 3,000m in 11:38 secs.

At the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in North London on Sunday, six Harlow-based athletes helped their club, Woodford, to 4th place in the National Young Athletes League.

Sophie Fuhr made a big impression by winning her 300m in a personal best (PB) of 48.7s and then placed a fine 2nd in both the 800m in 2:33 and 3,000m in 13:23.

Other winners were Billy Falconer (high jump in 1.85m); Amy Larkin (hammer with 25.40m); and Tom Richards (javelin in 49.98m).

Lewis Chalk and Amelia Barrett, both 12, placed 3rd overall in their events. Amelia ran a PB of 4:24 in the 1,200m and Lewis clocked a PB of 2:36 in the 800m.

Sri Lankan returns to war-torn homeland

PRANETH Jayasundera's Sawbridgeworth debut has been delayed by at least another week as the cricketer has returned to his war-torn home nation.

The Sri Lankan was unable to play in Sawbridgeworth's (273-4) 131-run win over Hertford (142) in the Home Counties League division two east.

Jayasundera has returned to his country as his father-in-law has died. It is believed he lives in the capital Colombo, away from the war-ravaged region.

Skipper Danny Wilson struck 134, his second successive century and the first time a Sawbo cricketer has achieved this feat in 23 years of competitive cricket. Mick Burrell shone with the ball, taking 6-29 (more at www.harlowstar.co.uk).

Passmores nets basketball trophy

PASSMORES School's U-16 basketball team won the Harlow & West Essex District Basketball League for the first time.

The team from the Tendring Road school secured the silverware when they beat Roding Valley High School (Loughton) 56-32 in the final at Mark Hall Sportcentre in Harlow.

Both teams started nervously but Roding had taken a 11-4 lead by the end of the first quarter.

The only Passmores scores came from one inside shot and two from the foul line.

In the second quarter, Passmores started to dominate and led 23-17 by the half-way stage.

The third quarter saw the outstanding Billy Falconer take control of the game. His energy and competitive nature at both ends of the court helped Passmores increase their advantage to 35-21.

In the last quarter, Passmores remained in control and continued to extend their lead.

Bradley Swift hit a three-pointer to round off a fine victory.

Nine schools were involved in the competition and played each other once before the top four teams went through to the semi-finals.

Passmores beat St Mark's (Harlow) 53-50 in the last four, while Roding defeated Burnt Mill (Harlow) 39-31.

Passmores teacher Daniel Hawkins said: "It's the first time this school has won the basketball competition and I am extremely proud of each member of the team."

"They are in training twice a week at 7:30am and this has paid off with their performances this year."

He added: "We narrowly missed out on qualifying for the last 32 in the national competition, but this result more than makes up for it."

"I hope the boys continue to play basketball after this year as they have the drive and desire to succeed."

PASSMORES (points scored in final in brackets): Falconer 25, Storey 13 (capt), Swift 5, Chandler 4, Wookey 3, D. Cooper 2, Shields 2, G. Cooper 2.

Burnt Mill joy in district cup

JOE Bristow bagged a brace as Burnt Mill overcame holders Mark Hall to win the Year Nine (U-14s) West Essex Schools football final at Harlow Town FC on Monday.

Bristow's double included a fantastic 45-yard strike for his second goal.

Burnt Mill had two early opportunities but Gary Nicholson failed to finish.

Mark Hall played the better football in the first half and got the ball down, causing the Burnt Mill defence lots of problems especially on the left flank, without finding a decisive pass.

Both teams made changes at half-time.

Burnt Mill started the second half well

BRAGGING RIGHTS: Burnt Mill's U-14 football team beat Mark Hall in an all-Harlow final of the West Essex District Schools competition (MZ3FVGMF3) and went ahead on 40 minutes.

Bristow latched onto a good pass and broke into the 18-yard box, before drilling the volley past the advancing keeper and into the net.

Burnt Mill doubled their lead on 50 minutes. Bristow broke before his shot was parried by the Mark Hall keeper Jack Eglin into the path of George Harrington, a Year 8 boy, who expertly slotted the ball home.

Any doubt about the result was removed on 65 minutes. Substitute Andy Jagen set up

Bristow who drove a long-range shot that left the Mark Hall keeper motionless to make the score 3-0.

Neil Coster, a Burnt Mill PE teacher, said: "Both schools would like to thank Harlow Town FC for the use of Barrows Farm, which added to what was a wonderful occasion and advert for sport in the town. Our victory was much deserved."

Simon Bolden, a

Mark Hall PE teacher said: "We worked very hard but their defence played very well and they took their chances well."

In the semi-finals, Burnt Mill had defeated Debden Park (Debden) 2-0 with goals from Charlie Evans and George Harrington. Mark Hall beat Roding Valley (Loughton) 5-4 on penalties after the tie had finished goalless following extra-time.

Reds legend honours Harlow side

LIVERPOOL legend Phil Thompson presented Maiden Youth U-14s with the spoils after an end-of-season tournament win.

The Harlow side won the Sci-Football Festival Mitre Cup tournament in Hastings, East Sussex.

The Harlow side had won this competition at the U-13 age group last year.

Maiden competed with teams from Birmingham, Leicestershire, Hampshire Middlesex, West Sussex and Surrey for the trophy.

The competition was held over two days. The tournament was contested on a league basis with the top two in the final.

Maiden won three group games to finish top but lost 1-0 Balgown FC (Surrey).

Balgown finished as runners-up and so met Maiden again in the final.

Fortune favoured Maiden when they were awarded a penalty for a foul on striker Charlie Guilder, which was duly converted by Aaron Greene.

Last man Dan seals first win

Old Southendian &amp; Southchurch 195-7, Harlow 196-7

Harlow won by 1 wicket

Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League, division two

IT was unbearably tense as Harlow just held their nerve to beat Old Southendian and Southchurch at home.

Responding to the visitors' 195-7, Harlow were well placed on 147-2 but lost their way as Nick Butler was dismissed for 40 and six more wickets fell for 48 runs.

It was left to last man Dan Stone to fend off two pacy deliveries from Jomo Mbili before getting bat on ball for the winning single which clinched Harlow's first league victory of the season.

Harlow skipper James Butler won the toss and inserted Southendian.

The move paid off. S. Harwood struck a four in the first over but was then trapped lbw by Jason McNally, who then had Aaron Lucas caught behind by Nino Calvino to leave the visitors on 4-2.

Luke Heskett, Nick Butler and Zap Nazir all bowled well.

But Old Souths skipper Rob Johnson produced a captain's innings. He scored a magnificent 110.

South African Jomo Mbili smashed a quickfire 28 not out

OUT OF LUCK: Harlow wicket-keeper Nino Calvino drops a catch against Old Southendians (N3F7SLFD10)

as the visitors totalled 195-7.

McNally took 3-55.

In reply, temporary overseas batsman Sri Lankan Malinda Thotiwilage and Rehman Ahmed quickly took Harlow to 50 without loss, before both players were trapped lbw in quick succession to Mike Gridley.

Waqas Akhtar and Nick Butler batted positively in the face of some hostile bowling from Mbili, forcing his removal from the attack.

When Nick Butler fell for 40, Harlow only needed 49 runs at four an over but Calvino (2) and Darren Green (2) both fell in quick succession.

James Butler was also dismissed cheaply before Akhtar went for 73.

The scores were level but Stone kept his calm to hit the winning single.

Skipper Butler said: "Jason McNally bowled really well for us and their guy batted really well for his century. He only gave one half chance.

Ashdon 192, Harlow Tn 193-1

Harlow won by 9 wickets

Herts & Essex Cricket League, division two as he hit an unbeaten 98.

Chasing 193 to win, Yates shared an opening stand of 73 with Jason Gladwin (36) before an unbroken second-wicket stand of 120 with Shiraz Ali (44 not out).

Earlier, Matt Furze smashed any wayward bowling as Ashdon looked set to post a 200+ total.

It was not until Furze was dismissed for 77 after struggling against shorter pitched bowling that Town got a grip.

Dan Calver (5-27), Marc Lowers (2-50) and Ashley Alderson (2-53) took the lion's share of the wickets.

Karl Seecharan struck 139 for Harlow Town seconds (243-7) in their 116-run win at Essendon (127) in division four, while in division seven, Harlow Town IIIs (119-8) made it three wins out of three as they beat Dunmow (118) by two wickets.

Potter Street (141) are still looking for their first win. They slipped to an 85-run defeat at South Loughton II (226-7) in division three.

Alemite secure double triumph

Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted &amp; District League

ALEMITE Athletic crowned an excellent season when they completed the double with a 2-0 home victory over Quendon Athletic in their penultimate premier division game.

Athletic, who had already won the Essex Junior Cup, made sure of the league title on Saturday.

They went ahead through a Jamie Gordon overhead kick on 25 minutes before Lewis Eaglestone doubled the advantage on 35 minutes with a shot.

Peter Lucia, Alemite's manager, said: "It was a good win. Quendon had a strong side out and we played really well.

"To win the double with a county cup is a really good achievement.

"We have a good blend of youth and experience."

Alemite were due to round off their campaign against Salvation Army last night (Wednesday).

In the other premier game, Salvation Army thrashed Sheering 8-2 at home.

Heath Rovers clinched the division one title when they won 3-1 at Frontiers.

Club secretary Groom sweeps up

Angling

BOBBY Groom took pride of place when the Stort Valley Angling Society travelled to the Durrants Hill pound of the Grand Union Canal in Hertfordshire.

Groom, secretary of the Harlow club, used pole-fished worm and caster as bait, and enjoyed an excellent total weight of 23lbs 3oz.

He took the plaudits with some fine bream, including a splendid 4lbs 14oz fish along with some good chub of 4lbs 10z.

Former club captain Steve Turnbull was second with a superb mixed bag weighing exactly 15lbs.

This included a hefty 5lbs 8oz chub and a specimen roach, which just touched 1lb.

Mick MacDonald took third place with just over 9lbs.

Junior member Ryan Head surpassed many senior members on the outing with a creditable 3lbs 9ozs.

There was total catch of just under 100lbs from the 18 members present.

Epping end on high

RELEGATED Epping ended a disappointing season on a high with victory over neighbours Potter Street in both teams' final match last Wednesday.

The 1-0 win still left the Stonards Hill men in bottom spot of the LCF Insurance Essex Olympian League.

Potter Street finished 9th in the 14-team division.

Galvin: First of many games

CUP HERO: Steve Sedgley takes a break on Sunday (F2G3NF7C-10)

SIGN OF THE TIMES: Tony Galvin signs autographs after the match (9)

TONY Galvin hopes the Spurs Legends game will be just the first of a few celebration matches to take place at Harlow Town FC.

"Harlow has a Spurs base and it was good for supporters to see the former players. It was good to see Ossie turn up to see us," he told Star Sport.

"Everybody worked really hard and it went well. For someone like me 45 minutes was quite enough."

The Legends will be based permanently at Barrows Farm and hope to raise money for various charities.

Galvin (52) added: "Hopefully there will be more games at Harlow and we can help to raise the profile of the club.

"The crucial thing is that we have official backing from the main club [Tottenham Hotspur FC] and they favoured us going to Harlow.

"It would be nice to have a game against West Ham later in the year.

"There could be a question and answer session where people can come and meet the players."

IN THE NET: Andy Edmonds (11) stabs in Spurs' second goal (F2G3NF7C-18). Right, Marc Falco walks off the pitch at half-time (F2G3NF7C-06)

Harlow Tn XI 1, Spurs Legends 3

MARC Falco and Mickey Hazard rolled back the years as the Spurs Legends side had the edge in the charity match against a Harlow Legends team at Barrows Farm on Sunday.

Watched by a good crowd of 525, the duo were joined by former Tottenham Hotspur stars including Tony Galvin, Terry Naylor, Steve Sedgley and Gary Brooke.

The team was managed by Argentina World Cup winner Ossie Ardiles, alongside 1970s star John Pratt.

Not to be outdone, Harlow had a host of former stars from the 1980s, 1990s and in more recent years. These included Ray Wickenden, Ian 'Smudger' Smith, Neil Moore, Andy Walker, Wayne Cort, Wade Falana and Dave and Dennis Greene.

Falco gave the Spurs Legends side – which will be based permanently at Harlow Town's ground from next season – a great start when he unleashed a wonderful volley over the head of Harlow keeper Martin Coomber to give the visitors the lead on five minutes.

But Harlow were level less than 20 minutes later when Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi – who showed some good touches – dribbled past a defender and slotted neatly inside the left post.

Coomber made a series of great saves to keep Harlow in the game.

Just past the hour Moore found himself a makeshift striker and was denied by a brilliant close-range stop from Spurs keeper Tony Tillbrook.

Harlow were to rue this as Hazard crossed and Coomber spilled the ball to sub Andy Edmonds to drill in on 70 minutes.

Spurs grabbed a third on 80 minutes when sub Micky Jarrett rounded Coomber before tucking home.

Wilkinson, Andy Edmonds, Glen Southam.

Bauer 5th in UK

DAVE Bauer showed off his improving form in Harlow Athletic Club's second senior men's Southern League match at the Lee Valley Athletics Centre in North London.

Despite still recovering from injury and competing in almost gale-like conditions which made field events incredibly tough, he threw 40.30m in the A discus, placing him 5th in the country in the men's veteran 40 rankings and 67th overall.

Bauer also took first place in the A hammer with a throw of 33.19m.

Chris Clarke made it a clean sweep for Harlow by winning the B discus (25.75m) and B hammer (22.77m).

"At the start of the day, it looked as if the windy conditions were going to really spoil any throwing, but luckily conditions improved throughout the day," said Bauer.

Injury, illness and competition from Vale of Aylesbury who won the meeting, limited further Harlow wins.

Glen Paxman won the B 400m (61.4s) and the B long jump (5.44m).

There was also a Harlow victory for the team competing in the 4x400m relay (3:51.8).

Nonetheless, good performances were enjoyed by Julian Tamplin in the B 800m (2:24.9), Jamie Solomon in the A 1,500m (4:36.4) and Carl Paxman in the A long jump (5.93m).

A third place in the match means that Harlow remain in 6th position in their division.

Keeps' sake

Hawks boss lines up two goalkeepers

GLEN Alzapiedi has spoken to two keepers about joining Harlow Town as he seeks to replace James Hasell.

Hasell has left and Alzapiedi is anxious to fill this key role but stressed only one stopper is likely to be taken on.

The Harlow boss said: "I have got a couple of options. Both have played at step three [Ryman League premier division or an equivalent league] before.

"This is a most important position but I do not believe you can have two first team keepers.

By DAVID RIMMER

We are not a professional club." Alzapiedi has also spoken to six outfield players as he prepares to build his squad for next season.

The priority players on his shopping list are a right-back to replace Mark Taylor and a central midfielder to fill in for the departed Sam Berry.

Ricky Byrne, who covered for Taylor at the end of the season, will not be coming back.

Alzapiedi said: "Ricky Byrne came in because my right-back [Taylor] had sciatica. He [Byrne] lives in Leigh-on-Sea and will not be back.

"I need to improve the right-back position and improve the quality in midfield."

Meanwhile, Harlow will not learn until next week at the earliest what division they will play in the 2009-10 season.

The side are set to drop into Ryman division one north after finishing in the bottom three last term.

A meeting was due to be held at the FA last Thursday setting out the divisions for next year but this was postponed to until next Tuesday (May 26).

This is partly due to the delicate financial position of certain clubs including Fisher Athletic and Merthyr Tydfil, which could yet provide a lifeline for Harlow.

Off the pitch, Lisa Corallini will act as first team physio at Barrows Farm.

She replaces the departed Paul West-Hook and will be on hand to deliver treatment and advice to players from the reserves down to the youth side.

She gained a degree in Sports Rehabilitation and Injury Prevention at Middlesex University and previously worked under Alzapiedi at Ware.

Two pre-season friendlies have been organised by the club. Harlow will host Blue Square Premier side Histon on Thursday July 23 (7.45pm KO).

A Southend XI will visit Barrows Farm on Saturday August 1 (3pm KO).

Cockerel crows as Ossie leads Spurs to win

OSSIE Ardiles praised Harlow Town's ground and facilities and admitted he thoroughly enjoyed Sunday's friendly between Spurs Legends and a team of Harlow Town veterans. The former World Cup winner and Lilywhites legend managed the Spurs Legends team, which will be based permanently at Barrows Farm from next season.

The 56-year-old Argentinean told Star Sport: "It was a great opportunity for Harlow and a very enjoyable game. It was great. I really enjoyed it. It's a good ground."

Ardiles currently lives in Broxbourne and is open-minded about his future in football.

His last coaching job was with Cerro Porteno in Paraguay which ended last August.

"I think it will be abroad. It may be in South America or Europe," he said. "We will have to see what happens. Something may happen in a month."

Former Spurs striker Mark Falco enjoyed playing with some of his old pals – and scored a brilliant opener for Tottenham. It was his first game in almost a year.

"You lose your pace but not your touch and control. I am glad the chance came early on though," he joked.

"The goal was the icing on the cake. A lot of it is about enjoyment and meeting up with people again. We want to try and get the Legends going again." He added: "Martin Chivers used to run it and we want to try and raise a bit more for charity. It will be good for everybody. It was very well run by Harlow." Neil Moore (36), who played more than 500 games for Harlow Town, enjoyed playing against the side he has supported since he was a boy. "It was good to see all the players from the different generations. It was a great day. "Mickey Hazard was top class. He only lost the ball once in 90 minutes," he said. "I'm glad I came off with 15 minutes left. The legs were feeling it!"
